

2001 State Science Fair Winners

Monte Vista High School Winners

Milena Pastore, They Came, They Saw, They Devoured

- 3rd Place All Fair, receives an all expense paid trip to ISEF San Jose, California.
- 1st Place Environmental Science, Senior Division
- Colorado Mycological Society Award
- Colorado Sustainability Project Award, 1st Place
- Scientific American Award, 1st Place
- Colorado State University $1,000 Scholarship
- Colorado State University $1,500 Scholarship
- Intel Excellence in Environmental Health and Safety Award

Nathan Davidson, Potential Inoculum Reservoir for PVY in the San Luis Valley, Colorado

- 1st Place Botany, Senior Division
- CSU Department of Horticulture and Landscape Architecture Award
- Scientific American Award, 1st Place
- Colorado State University $1,000 Scholarship

Lori Timm, Alar Scare: Real or Hysteria?

- 2nd Place Environmental Sciences, Senior Division

Christine Knoblauch, Whose Fault Is It Anyway? The Alamosa River

- Honorable Mention Environmental Sciences, Senior Division
- Association for Women Geoscientists Award
- Colorado Scientific Society Award, 1st Place
- American Water Works Association Award, 2nd Place
- Rocky Mountain Water Environment Association Award
- Water Prize

Melissa Pinkerton, Cell Damage: The Effects of Cellular Phone Emissions on Escherichia Coli and Drosophila Melanogaster

- 3rd Place Zoology, Senior Division
- United States Navy and United States Marine Corps Award
- United States Department of Commerce Award

Monte Vista Middle School Winners

Tyler Keck, Runaway Water: Does Polacrylamide Help Reduce Soil Erosion?

- Colorado Scientific Society Award, 2nd Place