

The following students competed at the 54th annual Colorado Science and Engineering Fair held April 9th -11th, 2009.

Middle School

Mackenzey Becker with the project Dirty Rotten Fountain

Graham Oden with the project The Mathematical Properties of Ferro Fluid

Meghan Shanahan with the project That Darn Rat

High School

Ben Armstrong with the project Enemies of the Environment: Estrogen Mimics, Can They be Stopped?

Josh Garcia with the project Brain Age: Conditioning the Human Brain in Minutes a Day!

Johanna Phillips with the project Infested Forests and Evapotranspiration:

Awards:

Mackenzey – Pioneers of Science Award, following in the footsteps of Louis Pasteur

Meghan – second place in the Junior Division Behavioral and Social Science category

Ben – American Water Works Association Rocky Mountain Section and Rocky Mountain Water Environmental Association award

Josh – Office of Naval Research award and a 1 year tuition and fees scholarship from Adams State College

Johanna – third place in the Senior Division Earth and Space Sciences category and an American Meteorological Society award

Great Job!